Scoping consultation feedback form

8 September 2020

The Health Information and Quality Authority (HIQA) recognises the importance of increasing the quality and safety of care and support for all children when they are using health and social care services provided by statutory agencies as well as by private and voluntary service providers. These services include general practitioners (GPs), primary care services, hospitals, child protection and welfare services, children's residential centres, services for children with disabilities, and mental health services. As such, HIQA is developing Overarching National Standards for the Care and Support of Children using Health and Social Care Services.

These standards aim to improve the experience of all children using health and social care services, by promoting clarity, consistency and continuity within and between services, and to focus services on the child first, rather than on the individual service needs. The standards, written from the perspective of a child, will help health and social care services to plan for and deliver high quality child-centred services. When approved by the Minister for Health, in consultation with the Minister for Children, Disability, Equality and Integration, the standards will assist all staff and service providers to understand their role in supporting the best possible outcomes for children.

We are holding a scoping consultation early in the process to give people an opportunity to identify the key areas that the standards should address, evidence that should be considered and stakeholders who should be consulted.

We will carefully assess all feedback received and use it, along with other available evidence and information, to develop the draft overarching national standards. Before you complete this consultation feedback form, please read the accompanying brief available on www.hiqa.ie and the instructions for submitting feedback.

The closing date for the scoping consultation is 5pm Wednesday 23 September 2020.
